

QUALITY IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The only national accreditation system of its kind.

The Suicide Prevention Quality Improvement Program provides a pathway to accreditation that supports organisations to implement safe, high-quality, and effective suicide prevention programs and services.

Suicide Prevention Australia partnered with people with lived experience of suicide, consumers, clinicians, service providers and accreditation experts to develop the Suicide Prevention Quality Improvement Program.

The Suicide Prevention Quality Improvement Program provides a suite of standards as objective measures to ensure programs are targeted, outcomes-based and reflect the needs of those at risk of suicide, along with those of their carers and the broader community.

Wesley Mission - Suicide Prevention Services

There are currently no standards for us to map StandBy against. The Suicide Prevention Quality Improvement Program will help us continue to be leaders in best practice postvention.

StandBy - Support after Suicide

If you represent an organisation looking to implement best practice suicide prevention or postvention programs and services then this program is for you.
